Teacher(s)	Van Tiggelen John Philippe ;Van Wymeersch Brigitte ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes	This course adopts a seminar-style format and themes vary from year to year. As a result, the course description is drawn up annually, in relation to the theme chosen for that year. Certain factors remain constant however: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- a traditional lecture-style presentation is used to introduce the theme, at which time students are given lecture notes and other course material;</li> <li>- use is made of audiovisual material and information and communication technology;</li> <li>- Students participate actively through some individual and (mostly) group-based exercises;</li> <li>- The work is intended to lead to insights into the field, definition and methods of modern musicology.</li> </ul>
Aims	By the end of the course, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- adopt an analytical approach to a musical theme (for example analyzing the different expressions or manifestations of a particular theme throughout the history of music);</li> <li>1 - have effective use of the tools of musicological research (musical sources, musicological literature, archives);</li> <li>- understand the modern-day musical environment in all its manifestations;</li> <li>- understand how Musicology extends into the fields of History, Sociology and Communication.</li> </ul> ----- The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Evaluation methods	Written exam : For the part Sociology of music and music diffusion, the evaluation pertains on the courses content as well as recommended personal readings (portfolio). For the part Musicology of the media, a written evaluation pertains on the course content and on a course paper. According to the number of students, a multiple choice evaluation is optional.
Teaching methods	Lectures accompanied by sound or audiovisuals samples. Possible conferences. Experts or guests opinion (ref. Sociology of music and Music diffusion).
Content	Part I : B. Van Wymeersch Understanding and analysing the major issues in the sociology of music in the twenty-first century. Through the relationship between creator, performer and audience will be discussed the problems of so-called classical, popular music or jazz music. Musical cultural practices specific to our Western society will be considered (music as a vehicle of social values). Part II : J. Van Tiggelen Understanding and analyzing present day sound and music environment through its various means of expression: recording, radio, TV, film, applied music distribution (Muzak), advertising, multimedia, internet (downloading), performing concerts, street music, etc. The lecture emphasizes the links between music and mass communication tools.
Inline resources	Electronic supports are at student disposal on the iCampus intranet portal (concerns the part related to Sociology of music and Music diffusion).
Bibliography	Pour la partie sociologie, B. Van Wymeersch met à disposition des étudiants un portefeuille de lectures (articles fondamentaux de la discipline, extraits d'ouvrages).
