Evaluation methods	Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the information in this section is particularly likely to change. During the first exam session students sit an individual exam in extempore translation as taught during the first semester. Student taking the exam during the third session do likewise.
Teaching methods	Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the information in this section is particularly likely to change. Students learn how to produce a sight translation into spoken French of a text written in English focusing on sentence analysis: segments, units of meaning, and so forth. The student works in the interpreting lab in order to work independently, listening again and making corrections on the basis of instructor feedback on the recording. Early in the semester the students are put in a position to be able to take the interpreting aptitude test.
Content	Articles from various news publications (Time magazine, The Economist, The Guardian, etc.). The articles cover topics related to general culture and current affairs, requiring no specialist knowledge.
