Place of the course	Bruxelles Saint-Louis
Prerequisites	The prerequisite(s) for this Teaching Unit (Unité d'enseignement – UE) for the programmes/courses that offer this Teaching Unit are specified at the end of this sheet.
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : By the end of the course, students should know the legal and doctrinal texts and decisions of jurisprudence and they should be able to analyse them in the light of the transversal themes studied during the year.
Evaluation methods	The evaluation is based on the active participation of the students in the course as well as on the end-of-year work, which consists of elaborating a project or a law proposal, related to the subjects seen in the course. Depending on the number of students, the work is presented in an oral examination.
Teaching methods	The course consists of a lecture centred on the examination of legal, doctrinal and jurisprudential texts, in relation to the themes addressed. Experts and professional actors are regularly invited to illustrate the subject and visits to places related to the course are organised during the year (as far as possible and depending on the number of students). Students are also regularly invited to debates with key actors in the justice system.
Content	The course consists of the examination of legal texts, doctrinal texts and jurisprudence decisions concerning criminal litigation or measures that have not been dealt with (or not in depth) during the second year of the law degree. Each session consists in dissecting a particular theme (alternative sentences, execution of sentences, drugs, terrorism, recidivism, criminal records, Covid19, prisons, etc.) and understanding the legal, political and institutional issues at stake.
