

5.00 credits

30.0 h

Q1

Teacher(s)	Leloup Bernard ;
Language :	English
Place of the course	Bruxelles Saint-Louis
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : By the end of the seminar, students will be able identify the multicultural facts of the European integration, develop intercultural skills along with analytical and reflexive skills. They will develop an in-depth knowledge of the European and International network present in Brussels and will be able : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to understand the historical, political, legal, economic and cultural roots of the European integration process and of the NATO creation - to understand the functioning of the EU and NATO institutions - to identify the roles of the main institutions and organs as well as the main areas of responsibilities and policies. - to understand the interactions between various stakeholders of the European and International sphere - to identify the interactions and collaborating areas between NATO and the EU More specifically, through the presentations and the simulation game, the student will : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - acquire skills valuable in any profession, such as being in someone else shoes, reading between the lines, understanding the nuances of diplomatic language, realizing the importance of reasoning to convince. - learn to work in small groups and under stress and constraints
Evaluation methods	Oral presentations Written assignments (briefing paper and position paper) Simulation
Teaching methods	Lectures Students' presentations Simulation Game Visits and meetings with officials
Content	This seminar aims at developing an in-depth knowledge of the European and International organisations located in Brussels. More specifically it will examine the historical, political, legal, economic and cultural roots of the European integration process and of the NATO creation. Students will be able to understand the workings of the EU and NATO organs and institutions as well as the main policies/areas of intervention and to identify the interactions between the various stakeholders intervening in the NATO and EU sphere in Brussels. Besides the main institutions (decisional triangle), attention will be paid to the interaction between the institutions in the formulation and implementation of EU policies and with interest groups and non-state actors, This seminar is composed by lectures, students' presentations, visits and meetings with some stakeholders as well as a simulation game throughout the semester to experience relevant aspects of EU decision-making process.
Bibliography	aucune
Faculty or entity in charge	TIMB