

| Teacher(s) | Carlier Jean-Yves ; | | |
|-----------------------------|--|--|--|
| Language : | French | | |
| Place of the course | Louvain-la-Neuve | | |
| Main themes | The course analyses, on the one hand, one of the fundamental freedoms of European law, namely the free movement of persons (included the free provision of services), and, on the other, the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union. The course focuses notably on the meaning to be given to concepts used in these areas ("workers" ' art. 45 TFEU; "free movement"; "internal situation"; "national of a Member State"; "Union citizen" ' art. 20-21 TFEU; "family reunification"; "obstacle"; "imperative reason related to the general interest"; "proportionality"; '; "fundamental right"; "general principle of law"; "implementation of EU law"; "horizontal direct effect"; '). | | |
| Learning outcomes | | | |
| Evaluation methods | Oral exam (information on Moodle) | | |
| Teaching methods | Teaching takes the form of active pedagogy. Students do preliminary readings, particularly readings of case law. These readings are then debated in class and a synthesis is drawn up from the theoretical lessons. | | |
| Content | A more detailed content of the course is presented on Moodle. | | |
| Inline resources | see Moodle | | |
| Faculty or entity in charge | BUDR | | |

| Programmes containing this learning unit (UE) | | | | | | |
|---|---------|---------|--------------|-------------------|--|--|
| Program title | Acronym | Credits | Prerequisite | Learning outcomes | | |
| Advanced Master in European Law | DREU2MC | 5 | | ٩ | | |
| Master [120] in Law | DROI2M | 5 | | ٩ | | |