

3.00 credits

30.0 h

Q1 and Q2

This learning unit is not being organized during this academic year.

Language :	English
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites	Students should have completed a language course of at least B1 level in the 'Common European framework for Languages.' The LANGL 1330 course in BAC1 is a good basis for the BAC2 English course.
Main themes	This course covers a wide range of topics of general interest linked to their field of studies.
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : The aim of this course is to broaden students' knowledge of semantic and lexical fields and to encourage spoken production. Students should be able to express themselves without too much conspicuous searching for words, on familiar and less familiar topics related to their interests and professional life. 1 Students should be able to understand a normal conversation (live or broadcast) dealing with everyday topics or issues related to their personal, social, university or professional life. Students should be able to understand articles and reports on contemporary issues in which the author adopts particular attitudes or viewpoints. They should be able to quickly scan a long and difficult text and understand the main points. Level B2 of the 'Common European Framework for Languages.'

Evaluation methods	The assessment includes various compulsory elements: • A series of continuous assessment activities (25%), including the following: • Taking the test on the files from Le Répétiteur - self-tuition material (Le Répétiteur, Term 1, not in class): • Taking part in the Warm-up discussions • Completing all assignments in accordance with the criteria provided (reading and listening comprehension activities, lexical and grammatical exercises, some of which are on Moodle). Completion criteria for the Moodle quizzes: -2 attempts, the pass grade is 60 % unless indicated otherwise -should be completed before the following class • Attendance and active participation in all class activities (max. 2 unjustified absences per term) • Written exam (partial exemption) in January (term one material; cf. January session in course notes for details, 25%) • Written exam in June (term two material; cf. June session in course notes for details; 25 %) • Students who do not obtain 10/20 or more in the January exam (partial exemption) are also tested on the material from the first term in June (Term 1 + Term 2 material = 50%) • Oral exam: group discussion in term 2 (W 12 or W13). The discussion is based on a topic related to the students' field of study (25%) IMPORTANT: Both the oral exam (group discussion) and the written exams are compulsory. Students who are absent for one part of the exam (oral or written) will be considered as absent for the June session. SEPTEMBER SESSION The exam consists of the following parts: 1. Written exam (60 %) • Term one material (cf. January session for details; 25 %) • Term two material (cf. June session for details; 25 %) • Le Répétiteur test (10 %) 2. Group discussion (25 %) Students who sit the exam in the September session can choose either to only repeat the parts where they got below 10 in June OR they can repeat all of the parts if they want to improve their grades for each section (see September session for the various parts). Students who failed the course in June and who are absent (in the September session) for any part of the assessment for which they got less than 10/20 in June are considered absent for the September session and will receive an overall absence mark. The mark for continuous assessment (15 %) is not taken into account in September, unless it is in the student's benefit (except the Répétiteur files which are part of the September exam for all students).
Teaching methods	The course is built on a hybrid approach, combining face-to-face sessions and a series of online activities on Moodle. Students have to complete the Moodle activities by themselves either before or after class (depending on the instructions given).
Content	This course aims to develop listening comprehension skills and reading skills (B2 level) as well as oral production including presentation techniques (B1 level) . Reading comprehension At home - extensive reading using reading strategies In class and at home - detailed analysis, commentary and comprehension exercises Listening comprehension In class and at home - extensive and intensive listening Students listen to passages (extracts from documentaries, interviews, etc.) at their own pace and complete activities Oral production Conversation activities on the themes covered by the texts and videos Vocabulary and grammar Basic vocabulary and structures are practised, consolidated and expanded using speaking activities (role-plays, group discussions, etc.) and written exercises in class and at home as well as self-tuition material (Usage Notes). The themes of the texts and videos in this course are related to journalism, communication, marketing, new technologies, etc.
Inline resources	http://moodle.uclouvain.be/
Bibliography	Syllabus du cours LAGL 1333 (General English) // LAGL 1333 Coursenotes (General English) Espace du cours LAGL 1333 sur Moodle // LAGL 1333 course on Moodle

Other infos	Students can choose a group and enrol for the course on Moodle. The groups are the same in the second term.
Faculty or entity in charge	ILV