Teacher(s)	Lits Grégoire ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites	The prerequisite(s) for this Teaching Unit (Unité d'enseignement – UE) for the programmes/courses that offer this Teaching Unit are specified at the end of this sheet.
Learning outcomes
Evaluation methods	Continuous work: completion of various exercises during the semester (50% of the grade) Project: production of a report to be handed in at the beginning of the session (50% of the mark) Second session: completion of all work (continuous work and project) not passed at the end of the first session.
Teaching methods	Project-based teaching. Each student enrolls in one or two of the specialities offered this year (sports journalism, cultural journalism, business journalism). They complete a journalistic project (alone or in groups of two) in accordance with the standards of that speciality, with the support of one of the course teachers. Support is provided either face-to-face or remotely, depending on how the health situation develops.
Content	The course focuses on the contextual specificities of specialist journalistic practices: historical aspects, current markets and innovative practices. It deals with issues related to writing, narratives, formats, journalistic genres and specialised editorial strategies (for example, in sport, culture, socio-economics, etc.).
Inline resources	Online resources will be specified throughout the semester on Moodle according to the direction taken by the course.
Bibliography	Une liste de lecture en ligne sera précisée au fil du semestre sur Moodle en fonction des orientations prises par le cours.
Other infos	All the relevant information on these procedures and on how the activities will be carried out (timetable, detailed instructions, assessment criteria, etc.) will be presented at the first session and will be available on Moodle. Some resources (e.g. bibliographical resources or explanatory videos) may be available in English.
Faculty or entity in charge	COMU
