

The version you're consulting is not final. This course description may change. The final version will be published on 1st June.

5.00 credits

22.5 h

Q2

Teacher(s)	Bragard Véronique ;
Language :	English
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites	Level B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages
Main themes	This course provides an overview of American landscapes and their memorial content related to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Material realities and American monument culture; 2. political and social organisation (governments); 3. moral realities and societal values; 4. cultural, artistic, philosophical and religious debates;
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Follow and understand lectures in English 2 Debate questions and issues related to contemporary American culture and history 3 Critically analyse cultural expressions and representations (memorials, films, literary excerpts, artistic productions, series, etc.) This learning unit contributes to the development and command of the following skills and learning outcomes of the ELAL programmes: 2.6, 4.3, 5.6, 6.6
Evaluation methods	In-class assignments & written exam
Teaching methods	Lectures; PowerPoint presentations, films, required readings, course notes.
Content	American history has marked the land to the point that its landscapes are memory; they contain the traces of human intervention, social relationships, displacements and living habits. This course offers students a survey of American history in its broader conceptualization, taking into account cultural, artistic and memorial aspects related to its territory. It addresses the cultural construction of memory by interrogating various geographical sites and texts in which traces of the past are physically ingrained, commemorated, represented, celebrated or contested. The course is divided into 10 modules, each of which is devoted to one specific landscape (ocean, river, plains, forests, plantations, city, roads, mines, sacrifice zones and parks & the non-human world). How does the meaning of American landscapes exceed what we see on the surface-level? Which pasts do these eroded places transmit, and how? Starting from Lauret Savoy's Trace: Memory, History, Race, and the American Landscape (2016), we will highlight how natural landscapes bear witness to political engagements, social decisions, forms of exclusion and conflicts. In retracing the history of the United States (and its connections with Belgium) via the shapeshifting elements of its landscapes, we will also interrogate the voices that have been silenced or omitted from dominant narratives. Each section will examine how artistic and creative sites of resistance (literary works, photographs, songs, films, speeches, activism, civil disobedience) respond to the damaging effects of human behavior (Anthropocene) and the current planetary cultural crisis.
Faculty or entity in charge	ELAL

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Learning outcomes
Minor in English Studies (only available for reenrolment and ELAL Bachelor transitional programmes)	MINANGL	5
Bachelor in Modern Languages and Literatures: German, Dutch and English	GERM1BA	5
Bachelor in Ancient and Modern Languages and Literatures	LAFR1BA	5
Bachelor in French and Romance Languages and Literatures : General	ROM1BA	5
Bachelor in Modern Languages and Literatures : General	ROGE1BA	5
Minor "Decentering History: Subalternities and postcolonial Studies"	MINDHIS	5
Minor in Literary Studies	MINLITTER	5		