FILB1BA - Introduction

Introduction

Introduction

Like a child, a philosopher looks at the world with wonder, seeking to see it differently and to ponder events. Studying philosophy means learning to think critically and question what is going wrong in one's surroundings, or on the contrary, what is going well. A philosopher is called upon to deconstruct the obvious and the reference points which make up everyday life: language, the body, the relationship to others, space, time and death.

Being a philosopher also entails being open to rich and diverse research perspectives, and entering into dialogue with other fields of knowledge. A philosopher tackles the questions which constitute our philosophical tradition as well as those which characterise our times: s/he discovers the thoughts inherited from the past in order to construct 'figures of the thinkable' for today and tomorrow.

Your profile

You

- are naturally open-minded and curious, and do not settle for certainties;
- like to challenge common beliefs;
- are interested in the major issues of our time;
- wish to improve your general knowledge and develop your argumentation skills;
- enjoy reading and understanding philosophical texts;
- wish to develop your analytical and thinking skills for your future career.

Your future job

There are numerous career paths for graduates in both the public and the private sector, with philosophers increasingly sought for their critical thinking skills, their ability to summarise information, their inventiveness and their rigour.

As a result, there are many and varied career opportunities:

- Teaching philosophy in secondary and non-university higher education
- Public administration and private sector: consultancy, etc.
- Cultural institutions: museums, theatres, cultural centres
- Associations: non-governmental organisations, non-profit associations and other organisations with a social vocation
- Books and publishing: collection management, choice of publications, proofreading, relations with authors, bookshops, libraries, documentation centres, etc.
- Information and communications sector: journalism, literary criticism, communications training, advertising
- Academic research
- Human resources management and corporate cultural patronage

Your programme

The programme consists of

1. general education, providing you with the knowledge you need to pursue higher education (languages, literature, human and social sciences, psychology, etc.); and
2. specialised education in philosophy, providing you with a general knowledge of philosophy and the tools you need to develop your own philosophical thinking.

This specialised education consists of theoretical courses, which will provide you with the necessary basic knowledge of the history of philosophy, and numerous seminars during which you will use your skills and learn to read and analyse philosophical texts, formulate your own arguments, and develop your intellectual curiosity through personal research.

Once you have completed your bachelor's degree, you may begin a master's degree in philosophy or ethics.

Opter pour un bachelier supplémentaire

Our dual bachelor's degrees are one of the special features of UCLouvain Saint-Louis - Bruxelles.

Students can take a second bachelor's degree, in tandem with their main bachelor's degree. This means that they complete their main programme with a minimum of 60 and a maximum of 125 additional credits spread over several years. The additional bachelor's degree can be completed after the main bachelor's degree. A series of courses taken as part of the main programme count towards the additional bachelor's degree and are therefore no longer subject to assessment. The additional bachelor's degree has the same value as the main bachelor's degree and provides immediate access to the corresponding master's degree.

The following additional bachelor's degrees are available:

- [Bachelor in French and Romance Languages and Letters \[Dual Bachelor's degree for the holder of a Bachelor in Philosophy\]](#)
- [Bachelor in History \[Supplementary Bachelor in History for the holder of a Bachelor in Philosophy\]](#)

For further information, please contact the faculty administration : phlb-slb@uclouvain.be.

FILB1BA - Teaching profile

Learning outcomes

By the end of their bachelor's degree, students will have acquired :

I. General knowledge and interdisciplinary skills

- Vast general and interdisciplinary knowledge by opening up to other disciplines and understanding the connections between them

- A grounding in the fundamentals of the humanities and social sciences (principal theories, vocabulary, methods and challenges)
- The ability to build an interdisciplinary dialogue between the different humanities and social sciences and to problematise their relationship to philosophy

All general course units (CUs) and optional CUs in the humanities, e.g. Critique des sources d'information, Littératures européennes comparées, Linguistique générale, Histoire des sociétés occidentales, Sociologie; Histoire de l'art du moyen âge à nos jours, Psychologie, Religions d'occident (judaïsme, christianisme, islam) et société; Droit naturel (in French or English)

- Knowledge in areas which are complementary to philosophy

- In-depth knowledge in one or more subject areas by choosing a minor subject and learning to examine it through the lens of philosophy

All CUs in the chosen minor subject (English, Literature, History, Political Science) and the possibility to take other CUs as part of an additional bachelor's degree

II. Specialised knowledge

- Specialised knowledge in fields related to philosophy and an understanding of the challenges of the discipline

- In-depth knowledge of the major disciplines which philosophy is based on (principal theories, vocabulary, concepts, methods and challenges) and an understanding of their practice

All thematic courses introducing the major disciplines of philosophy, e.g. Philosophie morale, Métaphysique (Year 1); Philosophie de la culture et de l'histoire, Phénoménologie, Anthropologie philosophique, Epistémologie des sciences humaines (Year 2); Philosophie de l'art et de la littérature, Philosophie politique, Ethique, Logique, Philosophie du langage (Year 3)

- Knowledge of the main streams and authors in the history of philosophy, as well as its practice, methods and challenges.

All history of philosophy courses, e.g. Histoire de la philosophie de l'Antiquité, Histoire de la philosophie moderne, Histoire de la philosophie médiévale (Year 2); Philosophie contemporaine (Year 3)

- Knowledge of the methods of critical text analysis and their application to philosophical texts

- The ability to situate a philosophical work in terms of a problematic and a historical context
- The ability to produce a personal commentary on a philosophical text
- The ability to draw on a text to construct a philosophical argument

Séminaire de lecture de textes philosophiques (Year 1); Séminaire d'histoire de la philosophie de l'antiquité, Séminaire d'histoire de la philosophie moderne (Year 2); Séminaire d'esthétique, Séminaire de philosophie contemporaine (Year 3)

- The skills to undertake personal research on a question of philosophy, including the proper and effective use of the discipline's specific research resources and working methods

- The ability to engage in a personal dialogue with the philosophical tradition
- The knowledge and ability to use the main reference tools in the various disciplines of philosophy
- The ability to construct a research question (defend a personal philosophical interpretation) and support it using the appropriate methodology in a personal work of up to 50 pages (in preparation for the master's dissertation)
- The ability to summarise the current scholarly state of investigation on a philosophical issue
- The ability to follow the instructions for a significant piece of work (including respecting deadlines) and an ability to discuss and interact constructively with a supervisor

Méthodologie de la philosophie et exercices, Séminaire de lecture de textes philosophiques (Year 1); séminaires associés aux cours d'histoire de la philosophie (Years 2 & 3; see above); Final paper (10 credits)

III. A grounding in the scientific method ('transferable skills')

- Critical thinking and scientific reasoning skills

- The ability to undertake scientific inquiry according to the scientific method and critically examine any type of information or document
- The ability to construct a clear and sophisticated reasoned argumentation involving a problem, a hypothesis and its verification

All CUs for the bachelor's degree in philosophy

- Expertise in the analytical methods for understanding complex reasoning as well as academic reasoning and communication skills

- The ability to summarise and identify the issues in any complex text or line of reasoning
- The ability to take a personal position in a debate about ideas and to construct reasoning to defend it, including vis-à-vis those who do not share its assumptions

All CUs for the bachelor's degree in philosophy

IV. High-level written and oral communication skills ('transferable skills')

- A grounding in scientific communication in keeping with referencing and publication norms

- The ability to produce a piece of academic work in accordance with the norms and ethics of academic writing (bibliographical references, use of quotations, notes, etc.)
- Sufficient knowledge of how to use the different means of communicating research results (oral presentation, written essay, commentary, review, etc.)

Méthodologie de la philosophie et exercices (Year 1)

- Communication skills in at least one language other than French

- Oral and written proficiency in at least one modern language other than French
- Comprehension of a written text in at least one ancient or modern language other than French
- Comprehension of basic academic vocabulary in at least one language other than French

English (Year 1) Students may choose between the following language CUs (Year 2): Traduction et explication de textes latins, Initiation à la langue latine, Espagnol, Italien I, Allemand, Néerlandais, Anglais: Introduction to English Literature

Programme structure

Philosophy studies can be broken down into several types of learning, which are as varied as they are complementary. Through these, students will:

- adopt a reflective and critical approach to such issues as the sciences, language, history, politics, ethics, art and literature.
- at the same time, acquire an in-depth knowledge of the philosophical tradition as they become familiar with the main thinkers of the four periods of history;
- often be required to philosophise during seminars and practical exercises as they read texts, write commentaries, produce arguments and enter into dialogue with tradition by confronting different approaches to a single question and daring to formulate hypotheses of their own.

Minor subjects

As a philosopher must enter into dialogue with other forms of knowledge, the programme also includes introductions to history, art history, linguistics, literature, sociology, psychology, etc.

Students can also choose a group of courses (minor subjects comprising four course units) which allow a deeper exploration of another discipline.

Philosophy students can choose from the following minor subjects:

- English
- History
- Literature
- Political science

Languages

Finally, in order to be able to interact with a multicultural and multilingual world, students also receive language training. The bachelor's degree in philosophy includes a minimum of 10 language credits.

In the first year, students take an English course, with a special focus on reading and practising academic English. Two levels are offered (intermediate and advanced). During the second year, students can choose between different courses in modern languages (English, Dutch, German, Spanish or Italian literature) or an ancient language (Latin). The level varies according to the language chosen.

Furthermore, the minor subjects offer the possibility to acquire an excellent level of English, with a thorough grounding in both linguistics and literary and cultural studies.

o Dual Bachelor's degree for the holder of a Bachelor in French and Romance Languages and Letters

This bachelor's programme provides complementary training to the bachelor's programme in French and Romance languages and literature. It allows students to obtain the title of bachelor in philosophy and to access the master's programmes in philosophy.

It aims to give students who enrol in it the opportunity to broaden and consolidate their philosophical training. In this spirit, the courses in this programme are based on the Bachelor's programme in French and Romance Languages and Literature taken by the student. It is therefore primarily intended for students who have chosen a thematic module in philosophy.

Comments

This programme counts 81 credits.

However, it is recommended that students choose the minor in Philosophy from the French and Romance Languages and Literature programme, which comprises 20 credits (4 UE). These 20 credits will be deducted from the additional bachelor's programme, which will then have 61 credits.

o Dual Bachelor's degree for the holder of a Bachelor in Law

This bachelor's programme provides complementary training to the bachelor of law programme. It provides access to the title of Bachelor of Philosophy and to master's programmes in philosophy.

It is intended to give students who enrol in it the opportunity to broaden and consolidate their philosophical training. In this spirit, the courses in this programme are based on the student's Bachelor of Law programme. It is therefore primarily intended for students who have chosen a minor in Philosophy.

Comments

- This programme counts 86 credits.

- In addition, students who have not taken the philosophy seminar in the Law programme (as part of the Criticism of information sources and seminar in human sciences in first year) will have to take the three History of Philosophy units (18 credits, not 12) in the dual-degree programme.

Course prerequisites

The table below lists the activities (course units, or CUs) for which there are one or more prerequisites within the programme, i.e. the programme CU for which the learning outcomes must be certified and the corresponding credits awarded by the jury before registering for that CU.

These activities are also identified in the detailed programme: their title is followed by a yellow square.

Prerequisites and student's annual programme

As the prerequisite is for CU registration purposes only, there are no prerequisites within a programme year. Prerequisites are defined between CUs of different years and therefore influence the order in which the student will be able to register for the programme's CUs.

In addition, when the jury validates a student's individual programme at the beginning of the year, it ensures its coherence, meaning that it may:

- require the student to combine registration in two separate CUs which it considers necessary from a pedagogical point of view.
- transform a prerequisite into a corequisite if the student is in the final year of a degree course.

For more information, please consult the Academic Regulations and Procedures.

The programme's courses and learning outcomes

For each UCLouvain training programme, a reference framework of learning outcomes specifies the skills expected of every graduate on completion of the programme. Course unit descriptions specify targeted learning outcomes, as well as the unit's contribution to reference framework of learning outcomes.

FILB1BA - Information

Access Requirements

Decree of 7 November 2013 defining the landscape of higher education and the academic organization of studies.

The admission requirements must be met prior to enrolment in the University.

In the event of the divergence between the different linguistic versions of the present conditions, the French version shall prevail.

SUMMARY

- General access requirements
- Specific access requirements
- Access based on validation of professional experience
- Special requirements to access some programmes

General access requirements

Except as otherwise provided by other specific legal provisions, admission to undergraduate courses leading to the award of a Bachelor's degree will be granted to students with one of the following qualifications :

1. A Certificate of Upper Secondary Education issued during or after the 1993-1994 academic year by an establishment offering full-time secondary education or an adult education centre in the French Community of Belgium and, as the case may be, approved if it was issued by an educational institution before 1 January 2008 or affixed with the seal of the French Community if it was issued after this date, or an equivalent certificate awarded by the Examination Board of the French Community during or after 1994;
2. A Certificate of Upper Secondary Education issued no later than the end of the 1992-1993 academic year, along with official documentation attesting to the student's ability to pursue higher education for students applying for a full-length undergraduate degree programme;
3. A diploma awarded by a higher education institution within the French Community that confers an academic degree issued under the above-mentioned Decree, or a diploma awarded by a university or institution dispensing full-time higher education in accordance with earlier legislation;
4. A higher education certificate or diploma awarded by an adult education centre;
5. A pass certificate for one of the entrance examinations organized by higher education institutions or by an examination board of the French Community; this document gives admission to studies in the sectors, fields or programmes indicated therein;
6. A diploma, certificate of studies or other qualification similar to those mentioned above, issued by the Flemish Community of Belgium, the German Community of Belgium or the Royal Military Academy;
7. A diploma, certificate of studies or other qualification obtained abroad and deemed equivalent to the first four mentioned above by virtue of a law, decree, European directive or international convention;

Note:

Requests for equivalence must be submitted to the Equivalence department (Service des équivalences) of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research of the French Community of Belgium in compliance with the official deadline.

The following two qualifications are automatically deemed equivalent to the Certificate of Upper Secondary Education (Certificat d'enseignement secondaire supérieur – CESS):

- European Baccalaureate issued by the Board of Governors of a European School,
- International Baccalaureate issued by the International Baccalaureate Office in Geneva.

8. Official documentation attesting to a student's ability to pursue higher education (diplôme d'aptitude à accéder à l'enseignement supérieur - DAES), issued by the Examination Board of the French Community.

Specific access requirements

- Access to bachelor programmes for candidates of nationality outside the European Union who are not assimilated to Belgian nationals is subject to the following criteria:
 - not have obtained a secondary education diploma for more than 3 years maximum. Example: for an admission application for the academic year 2023-2024, you must have obtained your diploma during the academic years 2020-2021, 2021-2022 ou 2022-2023. In the French Community of Belgium, the academic year runs from September 14 to September 13
 - not already hold an undergraduate degree
- Candidates, whatever their nationality, with a secondary school diploma from a country outside the European Union, must have obtained an average of 13/20 minimum or, failing that, have obtained this average, have passed one year of study in Belgium (for example special Maths / sciences). A non-successful year will not be taken into consideration.

- For any secondary school diploma from a European Union country, the admission request must contain the equivalence of your diploma or, at the very least, proof of the filing of the equivalence request with the Wallonia-Brussels Federation (French Community of Belgium). For any information relating to obtaining an equivalence, please refer to the following site.
- For any secondary school diploma from a country outside the European Union, the admission application must contain the equivalence of your diploma issued by the Wallonia-Brussels Federation (French Community of Belgium). If you have a restrictive equivalence for the programme of your choice, in addition of it, you must have either the DAES or a certificate of successful completion of the examination giving access to 1st cycle studies when you submit your application

Admission to undergraduate studies on the basis of accreditation of knowledge and skills obtained through professional or personal experience (Accreditation of Prior Experience)

Subject to the general requirements laid down by the authorities of the higher education institution, with the aim of admission to the undergraduate programme, the examination boards accredit the knowledge and skills that students have obtained through their professional or personal experience.

This experience must correspond to at least five years of documented activity, with years spent in higher education being partially taken into account: 60 credits are deemed equivalent to one year of experience, with a maximum of two years being counted. At the end of an assessment procedure organized by the authorities of the higher education institution, the Examination Board will decide whether a student has sufficient skills and knowledge to successfully pursue undergraduate studies.

After this assessment, the Examination Board will determine the additional courses and possible exemptions constituting the supplementary requirements for the student's admission.

Special requirements to access some programmes

- Admission to undergraduate studies in engineering: civil engineering and architect

Pass certificate for the special entrance examination for undergraduate studies in engineering: civil engineering and architect.

Admission to these courses is always subject to students passing the special entrance examination. Contact the faculty office for the programme content and the examination arrangements.

- Admission to undergraduate studies in veterinary medicine

Note: students wishing to enrol for a Bachelor's degree in Medicine or a Bachelor's degree in dental science must first sit an aptitude test \(fr\).

Teaching method

Courses, seminars, practical seminars

Course units in the philosophy programme are divided into lectures and seminars or practical seminars.

1. Lectures focus on a particular period in the history of philosophy or on a specific branch of philosophy.
2. Seminars involve smaller groups. They are a forum for more detailed discussion about major philosophical works, and feature student presentations. There is a strong focus on debate and group discussion.
3. The practical seminars are designed to introduce students to philosophical writing.
4. Finally, students are required to produce a number of essays and research papers throughout the year, which are marked and returned to them with personalised feedback.

Methodological assistance

The Saint-Louis - Bruxelles campus places great importance on educational support for all bachelor's programmes. The Academic Guidance Service (AGS) offers a range of activities and is available to meet students who wish to do so.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

Three examination sessions are organised during the academic year, in January, June and September.

First-year students who do not achieve passing grades in the January session have up to two opportunities to retake specific examinations, in June and/or September.

The assessment methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. Further information on the specific assessment methods may be found in the course descriptions.

There are different types of assessment according to the type of teaching and course. Some courses involve traditional oral and/or written exams (during one of the three examination sessions), while seminars involve more substantial student participation and assessment of personal work. Assessment procedures will be specified at the beginning of each course.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

Exchange programmes

It is enriching to pursue part of one's programme at a foreign university.

Immersed in a new environment, students develop their ability to be adaptable and self-reliant. Furthermore, they often deepen their knowledge of a language other than French and discover a different culture.

For these reasons, Saint-Louis - Bruxelles encourages participation in student exchanges, whether through Erasmus or outside Europe.

Philosophy students can take part in an exchange programme during the first term of the third year. Selection is based on credits already earned, marks and motivation.

Language study grants

Students who have submitted a motivated request and have obtained sufficient marks in their June exams can obtain a grant for taking language courses in a European country during the summer holidays.

Possible destinations include Spain, Italy, Germany, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands. The grant covers up to half the cost of the language course and accommodation.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

The bachelor's degree in philosophy gives direct access to the master's degree in philosophy (120 and 60) organised under the Fédération Wallonie-Bruxelles. It also gives direct access to the master's degree in ethics.
