

Churchill Archive

Supporting higher education courses in history and politics

The Churchill Archive is a digital library of modern international history. It is a unique resource that offers new insight into a fascinating period of our past.

- Designed to support teaching, study and research, providing an invaluable resource for a wide range of courses
- Includes more than 800,000 pages of original documents, produced between 1874 and 1965
- Documents range from Churchill's personal correspondence to exchanges between the great leaders of the 19th and 20th centuries, and span the period from the Boer War to the Cold War

TEACHING AND LEARNING RESOURCES

The Archive includes the following unique resources designed to support a range of courses:

IN-DEPTH GUIDES

These guides provide an introduction to a topic which forms the foundation of further study into key areas of 20th century history. A range of themes are covered including: Churchill as a Strategist in World War 2; Churchill and the Cold War; Churchill and the Islamic World; and more (see over).

- Designed around modules that appear on higher education courses internationally
- Written by leading academics who are experts in their field
- Provide clear links to the relevant primary source documents in the Archive
- Supported by extensive lecture slides on various topics
- Offer links to further reading lists, bibliographies and references

INTRODUCTIONS

These introductions offer an accessible way into the Archive for those less familiar or confident with the study of primary sources. They provide an overview of broader areas of research and study and are based around key teaching topics such as Women and Social Change and Empire and Imperialism.

- Provide a structured way to introduce students to primary source material and explore its relevance to their study and research topics
- Highlight a small number of documents from the Archive and suggest useful parts of the Archive to explore further as part of independent research
- Written by leading academics who are experts in their field

The Churchill Archive resources below are suitable for the following courses. All resources are In-depth Guides except those identified as Introductions.

World War Two courses

- The Origins of the Second World War (Introduction)
- Appeasement (Introduction)
- Churchill as Strategist in World War Two
- Churchill and Airpower
- Churchill and Women
- The Birth of the Anglo-American ‘Special Relationship’
- The Century of the ‘Special Relationship’: Britain and America in the Age of Churchill (Introduction)
- Women and Social Change (Introduction)

World War One and Military History courses

- The Origins of the First World War (Introduction)
- Churchill and Airpower
- Winston Churchill as First Lord of the Admiralty, 23 October 1911 - 24 May 1915

World History courses

- Churchill and Empire
- Empire and Imperialism (Introduction)
- The Birth of the Anglo-American ‘Special Relationship’
- The Century of the ‘Special Relationship’: Britain and America in the Age of Churchill (Introduction)
- Winston Churchill and the Islamic World
- The Cold War and Nuclear Weapons (Introduction)
- Winston Churchill and the Cold War
- Fascism (Introduction)
- Science and Technology (Introduction)

Economic History courses

- Churchill as Chancellor of the Exchequer (1924–9) and the Return to the Gold Standard
- Churchill and Empire
- Empire and Imperialism (Introduction)

Post-war History courses

- Post-war Europe (Introduction)
- The Cold War and Nuclear Weapons (Introduction)
- Churchill and Nuclear Weapons
- Winston Churchill and the Cold War

Politics courses

- Churchill and Labour
- Churchill and the Conservative Party
- Churchill: The Young Statesman, 1901-1914
- Churchill as Chancellor of the Exchequer (1924–9) and the Return to the Gold Standard
- Winston Churchill and the Cold War
- Churchill and the General Strike
- Churchill and Women
- Class and Politics (Introduction)
- Fascism (Introduction)
- The Birth of the Anglo-American ‘Special Relationship’
- The Century of the ‘Special Relationship’: Britain and America in the Age of Churchill (Introduction)
- Post-war Europe (Introduction)

Social Policy and Cultural Studies courses

- Churchill and Women
- Women and Social Change (Introduction)
- Winston Churchill and the Islamic World
- Churchill: The Young Statesman, 1901-1914
- Churchill and Empire
- Empire and Imperialism (Introduction)
- Churchill and Labour
- Class and Politics (Introduction)
- Science and Technology (Introduction)

“This is the holy grail of twentieth-century archives.”
 Martin Farr, Director of Undergraduate Studies, School of Historical Studies, Newcastle University, UK

▶ FIND OUT MORE AT www.churchillarchive.com

- Take a Tour – for a demonstration of how to use the site
  - Ask the Archivist – for guidance on how to use an archive in research
  - Explore – to discover a unique taxonomy that allows you to search by topic, place, period or people
  - Sign up* – for personalization so you can save searches, export citations, download and print
- *Personalization and the ability to search the full Churchill Archive is available through your institutional subscription.*

